College Description

The OSU College of Professional Studies, housed at OSU-Tulsa, is designed to address the workforce needs of local industries and agencies in Tulsa with a special emphasis on working adults with some college credit but no degree.

The College of Professional Studies offers flexible bachelor's degree programs to help working adults complete a bachelor's degree that adds value to their current career. The Bachelor of Professional Studies is adaptable, with a flexible credit for prior learning, transfer credit and military credits.

From an employer's perspective, these degree programs are a new form of workforce development, providing a clear pathway to overcome the college degree barrier and enable employees to advance within their organization. Curricula are designed to meet the needs of students and the companies who employ them. Tulsa-area employers who have partnered with OSU-Tulsa on these degree programs include the Tulsa Police Department and TTCU Federal Credit Union.

Academic Programs

The Bachelor of Professional Studies in Organizational Leadership (p. 3328) is a practical, comprehensive degree option for professionals seeking to advance in their current career by earning a bachelor's degree. In many companies and organizations, advancement opportunities are tied to educational attainment. The Bachelor of Professional Studies in Organizational Leadership is designed to help earn a raise, get a promotion, or meet career goals.

The Bachelor of Professional Studies in Public Safety (p. 3329) is a practical, comprehensive degree option for public safety professionals. Students will gain the knowledge and skills to take on a variety of roles in the public safety sector. The coursework emphasizes essential human skills to successfully work in public safety, including cultural awareness, conflict resolution and effective communication.

The Bachelor of Professional Studies in Health Care Administration (https://tulsa.okstate.edu/undergraduate-academics/healthcareadministration.html) equips a student with the knowledge and skills to develop a career in leading health care organizations such as hospitals, physician offices, care facilities and other health care organizations. Students will learn the aspects of leadership and organizational development to prepare them for service in both small and large healthcare environments.

The Bachelor of Professional Studies in Entertainment Media (https://tulsa.okstate.edu/undergraduate-academics/entertainment-media.html) offers a comprehensive understanding of the entertainment industry. This degree is ideal for those seeking to build or advance careers in filmmaking, television production, digital storytelling, public relations, advertising, music production, and brand management. Students will learn valuable skills from a curriculum that keeps pace with the latest trends and best practices in this ever evolving and rapidly expanding landscape.

Transfer Student Success Center

Students who complete degrees in the College of Professional Studies often start their coursework elsewhere and transfer credits to OSU-Tulsa to complete their degree. Academic advisors play an important role in helping prospective students understand how their previous coursework will transfer to meet degree requirements. Students can meet with an advisor in the Transfer Student Success Center before they apply and are admitted. After admission to OSU, students will be assigned an advisor who will help them navigate the enrollment process throughout their academic career. Professional academic advisors are invested in the student's success and help students to develop an academic plan to complete their educational goals with their other commitments in mind. In addition to helping students with enrollment and educational goals, advisors also guide and encourage students and connect them to various campus resources.
